The Custom House Commission-Trade Prospects-The Grain Bus-

sioners appointed to examine the new Custom House have arrived. It consists of the following gentlemen: Gen. Jas. H. Wilcox, of New York; Gen. W. B. Franklin, of Hartlord, Conn.; Nathan W. Braden, of Boston; R. J. Debbins and John McArthur, of Philadelphia; A. Kennedy, of St. Louis, and Henry Whitestone, of Louisville. Benj. Darbee is the scoretary to the Commission.

Business is now active, particularly among staple dry goods houses, who say they are having about all the trade they can attend to. The country is said to be barren of goods, and most of the jobing houses seem to think that they will ave a very heavy fall business.

The receipts of grain, although terribly interfered with by the continued rains in this and adjoining States, are increasing, and the return of fair weather will bring a very large increase, in supplies of both small grain and corn.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad has just borrowed 500 cars from an Eastern line in order to meet the demand on it for the transportation of grain and other products to this market. Other Western and Northwestern lines other western and Northwestern lines say they are daily receiving large orders for cars, and that it will be impossible for them to meet the extra demand, as a return of good weather will permit the farmers to thresh and send their grain to

MRS. MARGARET HOPKINS.

The loss of a friend upon whom the heart was fixed, to whom every wish and endeavor tendeq, is a state of dreamy desolation, in which the mind looks abroad impatient of itself, and finds nothing but emptiness and horror. The blameless life, the artiess tenderness, the pious simplicity, the modest resignation, the patient sigkness, and the quiet death, remembered only to add value to the loss, to aggravate regret for what can not be amended, to deepen sorrow for what can not be recalled.

In Col. Dan Rice's collection of Bronchos, which will exhibit in Cinciunati for the first time on Monday, Sept. 18th, on the lot on Race street, between Fourth and Fifth, is a pair of twin horses, of remarkable sagacity, named twin horses, of remarkable sagacity, named Bravo and Bonto (the Brave and the Beautiful). In their wild state they were always together in the herd, and in capturing them only one was lassooed and the other followed into the corral, and in training them they were always trained together, and in fact they can not be separated, so strong is their attachment for each other. They perform some very remarkable feats, among which is the wonderful see-saw or testering act so very popular with the school boys. They do everything by word of command, being entirely free from restraint of saddle, bridle or whip.

Another Brutal Outrage. In the Police Court this morning a lad of eighteen years, named John Gross, who lives at 387 East Third street, was brought up on a charge of rape. George H. Schafer, who resides at 404 East Third street, brought the sides at 404 East Third street, brought the charge, and alleges that his five-year-old daughter, Mary Schafer, is the victim of the atroclous outrage. Gross is said to have drawn the girl into his room by flattering promises, and afterward accomplished his villamous plans of violence by toreats. After the deed dad been accomplished, the girl made complaints to her parents, and it was found that she had been severely injured. Gross this she had been severely injured. Gross this moraing pleased guilty to the crime, and was bound over to the Grand Jury. His batl was fixed at $1,000, and not being able to furnish that amount, he was committed to jail.
